REPLY COMMENTS AND MOTION TO DISMISS COUNTERPROPOSAL OF SUNY

Sacred Heart University, Inc. ("Petitioner"), by its counsel, hereby replies to the comments submitted by Eric P. Strauss ("Strauss"); Radio South Burlington, Inc. ("RSB"); Aritaur Communications, Inc. ("Aritaur"); Historic Hudson Valley Radio, Inc. ("HHV") and Raymond A. Natole ("Natole"). In addition, petitioner moves to dismiss the Counterproposal submitted by State University of New York ("SUNY") as defective. In support hereof, Petitioner states as follows:

BACKGROUND

1. Petitioner seeks the allotment of Channel *277A to North Canaan, Connecticut as a noncommercial educational reserved channel to provide a first local service, coverage to substantial noncommercial educational white and gray areas and enable Station WQQQ to increase its effective radiated power to 6 kW by the substitution of Channel 273A for Channel 277A at Sharon, Connecticut. In a separate proceeding (MM Docket No. 93-17), Channel 273A had been allotted to Rosendale, New York. That proceeding is still pending on reconsideration at the Commission. The Notice of Proposed Rule Making, 12 FCC Rcd 11978 (1997), acknowledged the existence of nine applications for Channel 273A at Rosendale and proposed to substitute Channel 255A at Rosendale and, to the extent necessary, indicated that these applicants may be required to amend their proposed transmitter sites to conform to Channel 255A<sup>1</sup>. The Notice proposed to allot a first local service to either North Canaan or West Hurley and sought comments on the comparative merits of the communities.

No. of Copies rec'd

2. In its comments, Petitioner argued that the Commission's priorities in Revision of FM Assignment Policies and Procedures, 90 FCC Rcd 88 (1982), would favor North Canaan over West Hurley based on its larger population (3,428 persons to 2,252 persons), the substantial need for noncommercial educational ("NCE") service in the North Canaan area (17,787 persons would receive a first NCE service and 11,865 persons would receive a second NCE service) and an increase in service for Station WQQQ, Sharon, Connecticut, on its new channel. On the other hand, Natole filed comments merely reiterating his support for the allotment of Channel 255A at West Hurley and failing to make any attempt to demonstrate that his West Hurley proposal is more deserving than Petitioner's North Canaan proposal. The Commission can properly conclude that Natole concedes the comparative benefits favor North Canaan and that West Hurley could only obtain the allotment of Channel 255A by default.

COMMENTS OF ARITAUR COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

3. Arिताur did attempt to make a comparative showing of the public interest benefits of the North Canaan and West Hurley proposals. Arिताur states at the outset that it has applied for Channel 273A at Rosendale and its proposed site does not comply with the proposed substitution of Channel 255A. Thus, Aritaur would prefer to have the West Hurley proposal granted to avoid amending its transmitter site. Aritaur argues that North Canaan is not a community for allotment purposes.

4. However, North Canaan is much more than simply a political division of Litchfield County, as Aritaur suggests. It is not enough to look at a map, the census and the worldwide web to determine community status as Aritaur appears to have done. One must instead look to its history and character to make such an evaluation. In Trade, Tennessee, 69 RR 2d 1731 (1991), cited by Aritaur, the Commission explained that the criteria necessary to be considered a "community" include political, social or business organizations, municipal services, incorporation and local government. North Canaan possesses these characteristics.

5. An examination of North Canaan reveals that it has distinct community attributes. This is not a new community; it was incorporated in 1858 by separation from the Town of Canaan. Settlement of the area had begun by 1738. The oldest railroad depot in the U.S., operated without interruption since construction, is located in North Canaan. The town's Douglas Library is the fourth oldest library in the state of Connecticut. Today, North Canaan has a separate school district for pre-kindergarten through eighth grade, and many different places of worship, including the North Canaan Congregational Church. North Canaan has a separate listing in the Government blue pages in the phone book. A Board of Selectman, Town Meeting and a Board of Finance govern North Canaan. It has its own Housing Authority, Planning Committee, Probate Court, Sewer Plant, Town Clerk and Tax Collector. There is a state police barracks in North Canaan, as well as a volunteer Fire Company and volunteer ambulance corps. See Exhibit 1.

7. For recreational purposes North Canaan boasts Lawrence Field, which contains tennis courts and a playing field, and Whiting Drive Complex, which includes North Canaan Community Pool, tennis courts, a little league field and an ice skating pond.

8. The principal industries in North Canaan include dairy farming, manufacture of medical and surgical instruments, limestone products, electronic assemblies, magnesium and calcium metals, sand and gravel. Several local businesses have taken on the community name, such as North Canaan Aviation, Inc. and North Canaan X-Tra Mart. There is also a Chamber of Commerce which currently has approximately 85 members.

9. There are several museums in North Canaan, such as the C.H. Pease Museum, the Canaan-Falls Village Historical Society Museum, and the Connecticut Railroad Historical Association Museum and Caboose. For the past 33 years, there has been an annual Railroad Days festival. In 1997 this event was held for 10 consecutive days in the middle of July and included activities such as pony rides, used book sales, softball tournament, country-western hoedown, and a professional arts and crafts show.

10. The above information illustrates that North Canaan is much more than just a part of Litchfield County. It has a geographically identifiable population grouping and its own local government, recreational facilities, municipal services, industry, culture and history. Thus, under Trade, Tennessee, supra, North Canaan is a "community" for allotment purposes.

11. On a comparative basis, Aritaur notes that the West Hurley proposal could provide 60 dBu service to 280,818 persons within an area of 3,055 square kilometers, that Channel 255A can be allotted to West Hurley without a site restriction whereas the allotments of Channel 255A to Rosendale and Channel 277A to North Canaan require site restrictions and that the West Hurley proposal will avoid the transmitter site relocation for the Rosendale applicants.

However, none of these minor priority 4 benefits are of the same magnitude as a first local service to a larger population under priority 3 and a first and second noncommercial educational service to substantial population areas, under priorities 1 and 2. See Revision of FM Assignment Policies and Procedures, supra.

12. Thus, petitioner's proposal to allot Channel *277A to North Canaan should be comparatively favored over the West Hurley proposal.

COMMENTS OF RADIO SOUTH BURLINGTON, INC.

13. RSB consents to the proposed channel change and states that it would prefer to change to Channel 273A in order to have a larger area for a new transmitter site and to increase its power to 6 kW. In particular, the availability of a larger site area could solve RSB's problem in seeking waiver for the new site it has specified in its pending application (BPH-960517IB). At the very least, the new channel will not harm RSB's chances for a grant of a waiver for its pending application. RSB's only condition in accepting the new channel is that it be reimbursed for its costs in changing channel. Petitioner hereby reaffirms its willingness to reimburse RSB for its reasonable costs in changing channels should petitioner become the ultimate permittee of Channel *277A at North Canaan.

COMMENTS OF HISTORIC HUDSON VALLEY RADIO, INC.

14. HHV argues that West Hurley lacks the requisite indicia of community status to be eligible for a channel allotment. In particular, HHV notes that West Hurley lacks definable boundaries, has no form of local government and relies on the Town of Hurley for its residents' needs. As HHV notes, petitioner questioned the status of West Hurley as a community in need of its own local service. In its own comments, Petitioner decided not to pursue this argument further because even assuming community status, the North Canaan's proposal is far superior and would be preferred on a comparative basis. However, petitioner agrees with the assertions made by HHV as an additional reason to favor North Canaan over West Hurley.

COMMENTS OF ERIC P. STRAUSS

15. Strauss, like Aritaur, would prefer not to amend its proposed site for Channel 273A at Rosendale to accommodate the substitution of Channel 255A. As such, Strauss makes the argument that in view of the recent enactment of auction authority in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, the Commission should place greater value on the revenue that commercial channels can provide to the U.S. Treasury over noncommercial educational channels which are not to be auctioned. Strauss would have the Commission set a new policy which favors commercial service over noncommercial service due to the auction process. The new policy would require an "extraordinary showing" to justify receiving a commercial channel for noncommercial educational use.

16. Petitioner maintains that Congress had no such policy in mind to favor commercial allotments over noncommercial educational allotments whenever a choice was involved. The purpose of the auction legislation was to resolve mutually exclusive applications for new commercial channels. Strauss cites no support for his theory in the legislative history. Strauss cannot achieve such an interpretation by seeking a ruling in the context of a specific proposal. Instead Strauss would need to file a generic petition which asks for preferential treatment for all requests for new commercial service when in conflict with noncommercial educational service. There is no reason to single this case out for disparate treatment particularly where Petitioner has shown an overriding need for noncommercial educational service in the North Canaan area.

COMMENTS AND COUNTERPROPOSAL OF SUNY

17. SUNY has requested that Channel *273A be allotted on a reserved basis to Rhinebeck, New York, as its first local service and states it will apply for the channel. In addition, SUNY supports the substitution of Channel 255A for Channel 273A at Rosendale. By this proposal, SUNY effectively concedes that it may not be successful in its attempts to have its license modified to Channel 273A or Channel 255A at Rosendale. Thus, in a desperate attempt to obtain a full time station, SUNY chooses a "larger" community in order to gain a comparative preference, a position for which it unjustly criticized Petitioner when it filed its initial comments in this proceeding on December 13, 1995. See "Comments on Petition for Rule Making" at page 3.

18. However SUNY has failed to submit a channel study to support its position that Channel *273A can be allotted to Rhinebeck. The submission of a channel study has consistently been required in all allotment rule making proceedings and the failure to do so makes the counterproposal unacceptable. See e.g., Rockport, TX et al., 4 FCC Rcd 8075 (1989); Springdale, AR, et al. 4 FCC Rcd 674 (1989); recons. 5 FCC Rcd 1241 (1990); and Columbia, CA, 6 FCC Rcd 3292 (1991).

19. Although it is clear that the Commission cannot accept the Rhinebeck counterproposal due to its prejudicial impact on Petitioner's proposal, Petitioner would like to offer additional comments to the SUNY proposal. As indicated in the attached Engineering Statement from Communications Technologies, Inc., SUNY has requested a site preference for the Rhinebeck channel. As one potential applicant, SUNY is not entitled to a site preference for the reference coordinates. See e.g., Springdale, AR et al., supra. Presumably, SUNY selected this site in order to maximize the noncommercial educational white and gray areas that it could provide. However those areas (2,925 white area population and 11,334 gray area population) are still less than the comparable benefits offered by Petitioner's proposal.

20. Furthermore, by specifying a particular site SUNY failed to state that a principal community contour (70 dBu) can be provided to Rhinebeck. The attached Engineering Statement indicates that there is no line-of-sight to Rhinebeck from the proposed reference coordinates.

21. Finally, SUNY has requested an allotment of Channel *273A to the Town of Rhinebeck, New York. However, the Town of Rhinebeck does not possess the necessary factors to elevate it to community status. It is the Village of Rhinebeck, not the Town, which has the required community attributes. The designation of "Town" can be misleading as it tends to create the idea of an actual community. In Barnstable, Nantucket and Falmouth, MA, 18 FCC 2d 663 (1969), the Commission noted that usually "town" means a "specific settled center of population." However, the Commission went on to explain that in New England states "towns" are "sometimes geographic and political subdivisions of counties" and the "Commission's FM Table of Allotments contains assignments to both towns and individual communities within a town." In this instance the Town is in fact the larger subdivision of the county, while the Village is the community center.

22. A phone call to Ms. Pat Coon, Assistant Village Clerk, revealed that the Town of Rhinebeck is a surrounding rural and agricultural area, while the main core of business is located in the Village. The local government for the Village consists of a Board and a Mayor. The Starr Library is located within the Village of Rhinebeck, as is the Fire Department. There is a Village

Police Department, however there is no Township Police Department. See also the attached Engineering Statement.

23. Thus, SUNY should have considered the population of the Village of Rhinebeck rather than the population of the Town of Rhinebeck in its petition for allotment of Channel 273A. According to the 1990 U.S. Census, the Village has a population of 2,725. As such, North Canaan's population is larger and should be preferred on a comparative basis if the Commission accepts the Rhinebeck proposal.

CONCLUSION

Sacred Heart University, Inc. urges the Commission to allot Channel *277A to North Canaan, Connecticut as its first local service and thereby provide noncommercial educational service to substantial unserved and underserved areas, and an increase in coverage for Station WQQQ, Sharon, Connecticut. Sacred Heart University, Inc. has clearly demonstrated that North Canaan is a community deserving of its own local service. The West Hurley proposal has not been shown to be comparatively superior and the Rhinebeck proposal is unacceptable for several reasons and comparatively inferior as well.

OCTOBER 1997

SUMMARY

The following engineering statement has been prepared on behalf of Sacred Heart University, Inc. ("Sacred Heart"), petitioner in MM Docket No. 97-178, to add Channel 277A at North Canaan, Connecticut and the substitution of Channel 273A for Channel 277A at Sharon, Connecticut. On October 6, 1997, State University of New York ("SUNY") filed Comments and a counterproposal in the instant Rulemaking proceeding. SUNY's counterproposal is to add Channel 273A at Rhinebeck, New York and delete Channel 273A from Rosendale, New York. Sacred Heart opposes SUNY's counterproposal based on the engineering issues described fully herein.

SECTION 73.207 COMPLIANCE

Review of SUNY's Comments and counterproposal reveals that neither the engineering nor legal portions of the counterproposal state that the proposed allotment meets the requirements of Section 73.207 of the Rules. Further, an allocation study which would support Section 73.207 minimum distance separation compliance was not included in the counterproposal.

SECTION 73.315(a) COMPLIANCE

Compliance with Section 73.315(a) requires that a proposed allotment be capable of placing the 70 dBu contour over the proposed community of license. Neither the engineering nor legal section of the SUNY counterproposal state that city grade service will be provided to the community of Rhinebeck from the proposed allotment coordinates. The engineering portion of the counterproposal includes no computation of the 70 dBu city grade service contour. The engineering portion of the counterproposal does not include a coverage map depicting the 70 dBu contour location and the relationship of the 70 dBu contour to the community boundary of Rhinebeck, New York.

SECTION 73.315(b) VIOLATION

SUNY's counterproposal for Channel 273A at Rhinebeck, New York does not comply with Section 73.315(b) of the Commission's Rules as applied in an allotment setting. Based on Bald Knob and Clarendon Arkansas, 6 FCC Rcd 7435, 7436 (Assistant Chief, Allocations Branch 1991), line-of-sight must be obtained over the entire community. In Jefferson City, Tennessee, 10 FCC Rcd 12207, 12209 (Chief, Allocation Branch 1995), an allotment was denied because the petitioner failed to demonstrate the existence of a site that could provide line-of-sight to the entire community.

SUNY states in its counterproposal that North Latitude 41° 53' 00", West Longitude 73° 46' 30" represents the proposed allocation coordinates. SUNY's 60 dBu NCE coverage map depicts these coordinates and a radiation center 257 m AMSL which is presumed to be the elevation associated with a 100 meter HAAT. SUNY states that the community reference coordinates are N.L. 41-55-36, W.L. 73-54-47. Figure 1, attached, is a terrain profile between SUNY's proposed Rhinebeck allotment and community reference coordinates. It is noted that there is no line-of-sight to the proposed community reference coordinates. In fact, there are two significant terrain obstructions along the path. This condition clearly violates Section 73.315(b) of the Commission's Rules and Regulations.

It is noted that the community reference coordinates selected by SUNY are not those found in either the U.S. Atlas or the U.S. Census databases for Rhinebeck, New York. The U.S. Atlas reference coordinates are most typically used as the community reference point. The U.S. Atlas reference coordinates for Rhinebeck are N.L. 41-55-54, W.L. 73-53-40. Figure 2 is a terrain profile for the proposed SUNY Rhinebeck, New York allotment site to the U.S. Atlas reference coordinates. On this path, there are four obstructions on the path into the community. This condition is also a clear violation of Section 73.315(b) of the Commission's Rules.

RHINEBECK POPULATION

SUNY states that the town of Rhinebeck, New York is listed in the 1990 U.S. Census as well as the Rand McNally Atlas and Marketing Guide as a community attributed with a population of 7,558 persons. Affiant has utilized 1990 U.S. Census data and the 1996 Rand McNally road Atlas to determine the population of Rhinebeck. Both documents show a Rhinebeck Village with a population of 2,725 persons. The U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census publication, "County and City Data Book - 1994" includes a listing for Rhinebeck Village and Rhinebeck Town, both in Dutchess County. Rhinebeck Town is listed as having a population of 7,558 persons.

AT&T long distance services was contacted in an attempt to determine the difference between Rhinebeck Village and Rhinebeck Town. The results of affiant's inquiries were as follows:

There is no AT&T long distance listing for Rhinebeck Town Government offices.

The number for Rhinebeck Town Police, 914-871-5522, is for the State Police and Dutchess County Sheriff's Office. There is no Township Police Department.

The number for the Rhinebeck School District, 914-871-5522, is for a regional school district, not Rhinebeck itself, made up of Clinton Corners, Milan, Staatsburgh, Hope Park, Red Hook and Rhinebeck.

Conversely, the Village of Rhinebeck does have its own Police Department, post office, and is the location of local business in the area. Pat Coon, Assistant Village Clerk, 914-876-7015, advised the affiant that the Village has local government, businesses, post office, police, etc., while the Town is a rural area without these indicia.

Given the above, it would appear that substantial question exists concerning the viability of the Town of Rhinebeck to meet the Commission's criteria as a community of license. Moreover, Rhinebeck Town is located in the New York-Northern New Jersey-Long Island Metropolitan area while the community of North Canaan, Connecticut is located entirely out of a metropolitan area as defined by the U.S. Census.

CONCLUSION

SUNY's counterproposal to allot Channel 273A to the Town of Rhinebeck, New York fails to meet the threshold showing of acceptability for a valid allotment. The counterproposal includes no allocation study, no showing of city grade service and fails to comply with Section 73.315(b) of the Commission's Rules and Regulations.

The foregoing was prepared on behalf of Sacred Heart University, Inc. by Clarence M.
